A THOUGHT FOR YOUR DAY...

This little story popped up the other day.

At a beautiful outdoor wedding reception in the Colorado foothills, a group of us noticed a family of black bears on the next hill. We were so excited because we'd never seen them in the wild! We kept eagerly pointing them out others.

When some friends finally grabbed binoculars from their car, however, we realized the creatures were merely grazing cows.

Now I tell this story whenever I'm asked what exciting wildlife I've encountered in the mountains. It gets a good laugh but also reminds me that we need to make sure we know what we are looking at.

It is a cute story, and it does remind us that so often we can start with an answer in our mind to one of life's big issues and then we look around for those who agree with us or at least support our opinions.

When maybe we need to start by exploring the questions that surround the issues of life before we rush to our preferred quick answer.

Be open to the new possibilities in your life!

Peace,
